Dear Dr. McKethan:

I am very pleased to share with you that your manuscript [577] Multiple Intelligences in Virtual and Traditional Instructional Learning Environments has been accepted for publication. After your article has been typeset, I will send you copies of the galleys for final proofing. The manuscript will then be scheduled for publication. I anticipate your manuscript will probably be published within the next 4-6 issues.

It is assumed that this article has not been published elsewhere, is not now or will not be submitted to another journal, and does not include copyrighted material except with stated permission. All articles published in The Physical Educator are copyrighted and listed in the Education Index.

You will receive complimentary copies of the issue that contains your manuscript after it is published (to distribute to co-authors, if any exist). If you would like to subscribe to The Physical Educator (if you are not a current subscriber), write the Publication Office at 901 W. New York Street, Indianapolis, Indiana 46202.

Thank you for your contribution to the profession. Congratulations are in order for your excellent work.

Sincerely,

William F. Stier, Jr., Ed. D., Editor
